Remember, since Guiliano does not use email, what is in his book is official unless you can provide an email showing someone accepted your game so it may be a good idea to save some of your emails.

Send in this form (Do not call Tony) and at the end of the season Tony will get you your no show fee.

If you wish to present your reason for missing a game, present that in writing and send to Tony and at the end of the season, he will meet with Coz and Jerry and sort out the situation.
